Information concerning interest paid on the online savings account

The overall interest rate is made up of a basic interest rate (minimum interest rate) p.a. plus a voluntary bonus interest rate p.a., which is added to the basic interest rate.

The basic interest rate is the minimum interest rate in the amount of 0.01% p.a. The interest paid on the online savings account cannot ever fall below the basic interest rate.

The bonus interest rate is a voluntary additional interest rate paid by Anadi Bank. Customers have no legal entitlement to this bonus interest, which is variable and is calculated at the start of the agreement on the basis of the "Terms and Conditions for Online Saving". Customers will be informed about changes to the bonus interest rate 14 days before the changes become applicable, by electronic means (message in Online Banking and information on the Anadi Bank website – anadibank.com). The customer can terminate their agreement free of charge during this 14-day period.

2. Special conditions for the online savings account

Account holders must be adult natural persons who are resident in Austria. The use of the online account is reserved exclusively for private purposes; any business use is excluded. Anadi Bank may allow the online savings account to be held as a joint account with a maximum of two account holders with individual powers of disposal who fulfil the above criteria, provided that (and only if) the application is made in the context of the online account. However, there is no entitlement to such a joint account, and Anadi Bank can refuse to open such an account, without stating its reasons. The appointment of authorised signatories and the disposal of the account by persons with power of attorney are excluded.

A maximum of five accounts per person is possible in the context of online saving.

Accounts for online saving are not used for payment transactions. Consequently, disposals may only be made directly in the context of participation in Anadi Bank Internetbanking, by credit/debit bookings on the reference account as specified in the account opening application.

Allocations to the online savings account must be carried out on a non cash basis by means of bank transfer, standing order or collection order.

The credit balance on the account is payable on demand without any notice period; Anadi Bank reserves the right at any time to refuse to accept a deposit on an online savings account, or to specify applicable upper limits for deposit amounts, without stating its reasons (see section 1 of the Terms and Conditions for Online Saving).

If the applicable amount limit is not observed, Anadi Bank is entitled to transfer the amount in excess of the limit back to the reference account as specified in the account opening application.
